

MIHIR- A 'Son'net!

People say overseas calls have a huge cost
But, if I don't call you- my son, I'd feel rather lost
Hence I call you each day, even from abroad
Though my frugality may find this rather odd

When you recount to me, every small thing
Your mom wonders, what is the meaning
Of telling dad things when he can do nothing
Every time he gives you a phone ring

To hear your voice is what I like, just
For my inspiration, this is a must
Just by talking to you, I become cheerful
If I don't hear you for a week, I'd be tearful

Your words can make my mood gay
Just chatting with Mihir, makes my day!
--Prasad Sovani, London, June 2006